High schools hard hit

By PATSAFFORD

CLOSING SCHOOLS has become a way of life for local elementary districts with the plunge in student enrollment.

But, for the first time, the Campbell Union High School District will be taking a hard look at that knotty issue.

Superintendent Nick Montesano said last Friday that On-Site Councils at the nine district high schools may be tackling two questions this year; a possible time line for school closings and recommending yard sticks to be used to determine which school or schools to close. The councils are made up of elected representatives of the school's students, teachers, parents and administrators.

This was the second year the high school district has registered a drop in enrollment but that decline went from 3 percent in the 1977-78 school year to 6 percent this year. Opening day enrollment in September, 1977 was 13,440 compared to 12,640 for this year. That enrollment drop is expected to increase to a maximum of 11 percent by 1980 and then drop slightly.

BUT THE loss of 800 students represents about 50 percent of an average school enrollment and it won't be long until school closings become a logical step to recoup the average $500,000 yearly cost for maintaining each school site.

"By next fall we should be thinking about school closings," Montesano said. This month Montesano will be asking the school board to approve the on-site council method of getting information from the schools. If approved those recommendations should be coming in by early 1979.

"There's more at stake in declining high school enrollment than money," Montesano explained. Flexibility (in class offerings and school activities) begin to "shriveled," he said. "And we're already hurting now."

BIGGEST ENROLLMENT drop has been in the westside high schools, such as Campbell, Westmont, Prospect and Blackford with schools east of Highway 17 showing a more stable enrollment.

Building has been going on at a fast clip on both sides of the freeway but on the westside more apartment developments, with their adults only requirements have added to the loss of students.

School closings isn't the only way to handle a shrinking student population.

"We have an option," Montesano said, "we can pay the penalty (higher costs). But it is a rather severe penalty."

BEFORE ANY recommendations for high school closings are forthcoming, Montesano said, the district will be taking a look at both sides of the issue.

We'll look at maximizing the positive impact and minimizing the negative, he said.

Final say on school closings is up to the school board.

He'll appear ... under protest

A Campbell businessman plans to appear before a traffic hearing officer next month in a sailor suit. But he doesn't belong to the U.S. Navy.

What Len Wiseman has in mind is a kiddie's sailor suit complete with short pants and a blue hat with a long, red ribbon.

According to Wiseman, the new owner of a pizza parlor in the Kirkwood Shopping Center, what has him all riled up is the letter he recently received from Ventura stating his traffic citation has been forwarded to local juvenile authorities for action. Wiseman is 49.

He received the citation for not having an auto registration from a Highway Patrol officer while driving his girl friend's car through that Southern California town last month, he says.

Why the case was given to the juvenile authorities is anybody's guess.

Perhaps his girl friend could pass for a juvenile? No, Wiseman says, she's also in her 40's.

How about him. Maybe the almost 50 year-old has an unusually young appearance?

"No, not me," Wiseman commented. "I'm just a typical, dirty old man."

When his court date is set next month Wiseman plans to appear in his unusual garb and take along a character witness to verify his age.

His 78 year-old mother.

Elementary districts show steep declines

If prizes were given out for the school district with the biggest drop in enrollment, Moreland School District would win the sweepstakes. But "winning" in this case means financial hard times.

This year Moreland showed almost a 10 per cent drop, from 5,291 students on opening day last September, to 4,764 this year. That represents a loss of 527 students. The Campbell elementary district wasn't far behind.

October 1977 enrollment figures for Campbell elementary were 7,572 students compared to the November 18, 1978 total of 6,850; a drop of 722 or 9.5 per cent. By the end of the school year that total could reach 10 per cent too, according to Assistant Superintendent Ron Rescigno.

For the first time those shrinking student populations on the elementary level have caught up with the Campbell Union High School District. This year the enrolment drop was 6 per cent, from 13,440 students on last year's opening day to 12,640 this year. Moreland and Campbell are two of the elementary districts which feed into the high school district.

As far as budget planning those 722 students won't create chaos for Campbell elementary since they projected a loss of 10 per cent. But the close to 10 per cent loss is "terrible," according to Rescigno and the administration has undertaken a study to find out where the school age children are going; private schools or moving away.

For the Moreland district the 10 per cent loss wasn't projected (they calculated 8.5 per cent) so it could create a financial pinch.

And for the high school level, for the first time, discussions of possible future school closings are being held.

It's clean up time in Campbell

YOU HAVE JUST eight more days to get ready for the fall clean-up campaign by Green Valley Disposal Company.

On Friday, September 29 all customers of the company who live within the city limits can put out extra trash, trimmings, etc. to be hauled away at no cost.

Certain rules must be followed that day and, according to the Los Gatos-based firm,

"there are no exceptions."

• You must live within the city limits of Campbell and be a customer in good standing (your bill paid up) with Green Valley.

• All trash must be in front of your residence before 7 a.m. next Friday.

• TRASH MUST be in disposable containers at the edge of the curb or in the street next to the curb. Material to be hauled away should not be placed on the sidewalk, driveway or yard. If it is placed incorrectly it will not be picked up, Green Valley announced. If your property has access to an alleyway however, and this is your regular pickup spot, trash can be placed there.

• All trash must be in boxes, metal containers or heavy duty plastic bags tied and light enough for one man to carry. Trimmings must be bundled in 4-foot lengths.

• No items such as furniture, appliances, boxes of dirt or rocks will be picked up.

• If you have an old trash can or garbage container you would like to have removed, place a note on it requesting its removal.

Wesley Manor

More than 1,000 on waiting list for senior high rise apartments

INSTALLING one of the apartment units in the Wesley Manor high rise senior citizen complex on Winchester blvd., is carpenter Richard Mac Donald. The 12-story building, near the intersection of Hamilton ave. went up in less than a month. The building was constructed in module units at a Southern California plant for the Campbell Construction Company of Sacramento and the completed floors for the 156-unit apartment were set into place at the rate of one floor every two days.

(Photography by Amy Huntton)

PEOPLE FROM AS far away as New York state on the east and Washington state on the north are on the waiting list for Wesley Manor, a senior citizen high rise apartment nearing completion on Winchester boulevard in Campbell.

According to Jerry Thomasson, who will serve as co-manager of the 156-unit complex with his wife, Beverly, so far the Methodist Retirement Foundation has received 1,000 names for its waiting list for the one-bedroom apartments.

Monday the Thomasson's enlisted the help of two volunteers to begin interviews at the rate of four an hour for the federally subsidized Campbell apartments. He expects to have people moving in by the first of January.

"We're calling every person on the waiting list to set up an appointment," Thomasson said last Friday. "And we'll interview as many as possible."

THOSE ON THE waiting list from other states usually want to move here to be near relatives, Thomasson explained, so they'll be flying out for the interviews and will be staying with family members.

Wesley Manor, a 12-story apartment complex adjacent to the First United Methodist Church of Campbell, will be renting to folks 62 years and older and rents will be federally subsidized. Residents will pay 25 percent of their gross monthly income, with the government picking up the tab between that amount and the fair market value of the apartments — $367.

Residents will also pay an additional $60 monthly for the one hot meal a day to be served to the estimated 190 residents in the ground floor central dining room.

That daily dinner meal is important for two reasons, Thomasson said. First, the sociability is important to seniors and second, each person will have an assigned seat so if they don't show up someone will go to check on them.

THE FOUNDATION has set up a quota system of sorts. A total of 11 percent of the units will be rented to handicapped individuals or couples (of any age) while 30 percent of the remaining 154-rentable units will go to "very low income" senior citizens who receive just social security payments and SSI benefits.

In the case of a tie over who should get the rental unit, Thomasson says they'll be selected on the basis of need. A person who already has an apartment but would like to switch, for instance, wouldn't rate as high on that "need" scale as another who is living temporarily at a motel or in cramped quarters at a relative's home.

Construction work is going well on the high rise complex and should be completed by December 28.

Each one-bedroom unit (they're all alike) will include a living room, bathroom and kitchenette. The complex also features a lounge, dining hall, crafts room, game room, and a bus stop near the front door.

THOMASSON SAYS he expects West Valley College to be setting up some educational and recreational classes at the complex next year.

For now the Thomasson's have set up temporary office hours in the construction trailer fronting on Winchester boulevard where the interview's will be held.

But if you're not already on the waiting list, it may be too late.

Thomasson is telling callers now that they'll have to wait until January 1 to reapply.

Brian's summer job

Local firm gets a bonus in work experience youth

One local firm got more than a good employee when they hired a handicapped student this summer. Their employees also learned sign language.

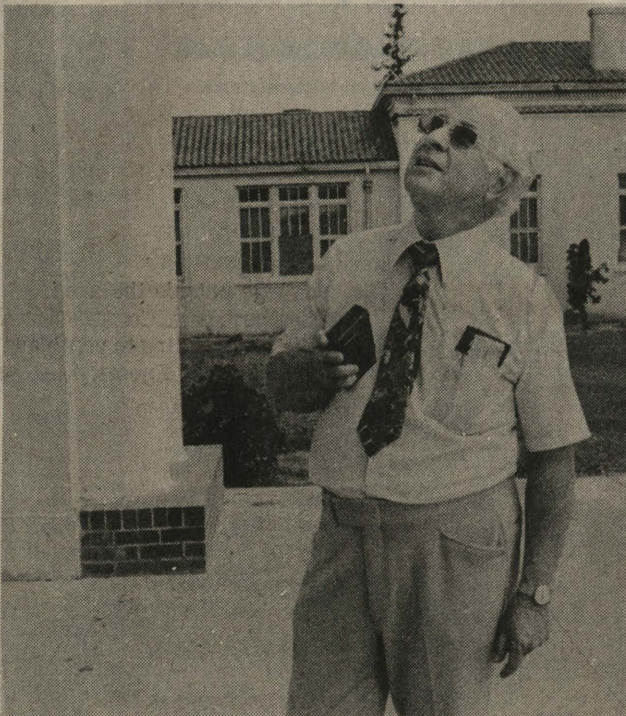

Last June Dick Carpenter, operations manager for Data Terminals and Communication on Dell avenue received a call from Bill Mathiasen, work experience director for the Campbell Union High School District. Mathiasen was trying to find a summer job for Brian Martinez, a 16-year-old Campbell youth, who is deaf.

Carpenter said okay and Brian was hired as a work experience student to do electronic assembly.

"It was a challenge for all of us," Carpenter said.

"But togetherness made this company great and I knew togetherness would make this situation easy."

TAKING A look at the old Campbell grammar school site last week was structural engineer Hugh B. Brewster who submitted his preliminary report to the city Monday. His findings on the structural condition of the building and cost estimates for renovation, won't be released until city staff and officials can meet with Campbell elementary school representatives later this week. City officials have already gone on record favoring acquiring that site for a neighborhood center. A total of $495,000 in federal grant funds have been set aside as "seed money." The big question now is whether or not costs will be too high for the city to meet.

(Photography by Amy Huntton)

When company owner Roy Worthington heard about his new employee he went to a local bookstore, bought 10 copies of a book on sign language, and distributed it to all the people Brian would be directly working with.

And before Brian started his summer job he and his father, Mac, a high school district trustee, held a special Saturday sign language class at the plant.

"The afternoon meeting was a tremendous success," Carpenter remembers. "Many people who worked with Brian, and some who did not, came to learn."

For several weeks, sign language classes continued for one hour after work.

"Someone would write a phrase on a chalk board and Brian would show us how to say it in sign language," Carpenter said.

Overall, the experience of having a handicapped individual at the plant has been positive, the manager feels. "One thing it did was show that communication was not difficult for us on a personal level," Carpenter noted. And Brian was a good employee.

"He may be going back to a school for the deaf in Berkeley this fall, Carpenter said of Brian.

"If he doesn't go through, he is welcome to stay on here. And if he does go, a job will be waiting for him next summer."

LAST YEAR these were among the dozens of Capri School youngsters who shared the Virginia avenue roadway with cars on their way to and from school. By next year the "walk in the street" route will be altered. City officials gave the okay to use federal revenue sharing funds to construct a sidewalk on the west side of Virginia Monday night. But Councilman Bill Posgorssek had one query for Principal Don Bergstrom. "The previous principal (Bruce Stevenson) promised to make sure the kids at least make an effort to use the sidewalk," Podgorssek noted. Bergstrom gave his guarantee that he would follow through on that commitment.

City could get $93,000 from state surplus

The city may get up to $93,000 in state surplus funds after all, Finance Director Jeff Whittaker told officials Monday night. But those funds would be conditional on the city signing an agreement not to grant pay raises to city employees until pay hikes are given to state employees.

City councilmen will make a decision about accepting or rejecting those state funds at the Monday, September 25 council session.

Up to late last week it looked as if the city wouldn't be getting any of the state Proposition 13 bail out funds because of a hefty ending balance of approximately $900,000 in the city budget.

But a phone conversation with the state controller's office last Friday changed that picture, Whittaker reported.

Another string attached to state funds is that cities must maintain their current level of fire and police protection. But that stipulation wouldn't be a problem for Campbell since no curtailment was planned.

Newsbriefs

YOUTH COMMISSION DEADLINE SET

Young Campbell people, between the ages of 13 and 21, have until Friday, October 6 to apply for one of the two vacancies on the Youth Advisory Commission.

Chairman Ken Podgorssek and Commissioner Kimberlee Droke recently resigned because they are attending college outside the area.

The Youth Commission advises the City Council on matters relating to youth and is active in community programs and projects. Last year the Commission helped with the Fourth of July celebration at John D. Morgan Park, the Recycling Center at Campbell High School, an evaluation of the Youth Employment Program and the annual Youth in Government Day.

Applications forms are available at City Hall, 75 N. Central ave. Call the City Manager's office at 378-8141 weekdays for information.

Plea from principal

Council okays funds for new sidewalks

CAPRI SCHOOL youngsters won't have to walk in the street to make their way to school along Virginia avenue next fall.

Monday night Campbell city councilmen voted unanimously to earmark $12,000 in federal revenue sharing funds to construct a sidewalk on the west side of Virginia avenue, between Hacienda and Steinway.

That action came after pleas by Principal Don Bergstrom and home and school club leaders. They cited the hazard to youngsters who must use the street to walk in because shrubbery and parked cars line the edge of the road.

Last year, when bids on the project came in way above federal Safer Roads grant money, the sidewalk plan was postponed.

RESIDENTS OF that stretch of road voiced strong objections to the project last year stating they prefer the rural atmosphere which the lack of sidewalks helps to maintain.

Monday night the only homeowner along that two block stretch of Virginia to appear, Barbara Haymar, said she has mixed feelings on the sidewalk project.

She has a child who attends Capri, she told officials, "but I feel that none of this trouble would have happened if homeowners had been given advance notice." Haymar said the first word Virginia avenue homeowners got was a letter from the city stating sidewalks would be installed and asking them to meet with city staff to discuss what type of sidewalks they would like.

"But it is a hazardous road," she added, "especially for the small children."

Bergstrom told councilmen he is new to Capri this year but read of the concern over the sidewalk issue when he reviewed the school's scrapbook.

"I WALKED ALONG Virginia avenue at the time the children are leaving school," Bergstrom related. "I found they were indeed forced to walk in the middle (of the street) due to parked cars."

The need for sidewalks along Virginia has already been noted by "many agencies," Bergstrom added, "and it appears the city has the ability to meet those needs." In addition to the safety factor, Bergstrom said the city might also be faced with a possible liability if an injury should occur along that street.

In approving the sidewalk project for this year's capital improvement program, officials added the stipulation that city staff contact "each and every" property owner and see how they wish the sidewalk to be installed to save existing shrubs and trees.

There will be on land acquisition costs for the sidewalk project. The city already owns a 10-foot right of way along the front property lines.

Twice as many chiefs ... with half the indians?

I can remember when there were 10,000 kids in the Moreland School District. Now there's twice as many administrators and half as many students. How come?

Old Timer

Editor's note: According to Superintendent Richard

Davis there were more than 9,800 students in the late 1960's in the Moreland district. There were 14 elementary schools, two junior highs and the district office. Today there are 21 administrators, including the new director of food services, 4,764 students in 11 elementary, two junior highs and the district office. "Running the district on 10 administrators back then (half of today's total) would have been a neat trick," Davis counters. That figure includes school principals.

So downtown is complaining about no one being able to find them? So what's to find? People go to the big shopping centers because you can find what you're looking for there. It seems like all downtown has now is antique shops.

A Shopper

Editor's note: Look for some new businesses to open there soon. A coffee-sandwich shop is in the works for the Campbell-Central ave. area, a new gourmet restaurant is located near the old Campbell grammar school and one property owner has an application in now to expand his business and add more parking.

Why are the windows broken out of the Towers building? Did someone shoot them out again? They are on the freeway side.

Curious

Editor's note: According to a spokesman for the Pruneyard and Towers management the three broken panes were not shot out. The problem, she says, is a continuing one and is caused by the extreme difference in temperatures (internal and external), which causes the glass to crack and finally just crumble. All of the latest three breaks are between floors on the brown tinted glass which cracks easier. It is also on the freeway side which catches the hot afternoon sun. By the way, each pane costs an estimated $1,000 to replace.

Saga of the pink poppy

By PAT SAFFORD

THIS PAST SPRING I was favored with the ultimate experience for the gardener. An honest-to-goodness, hybrid species. It wasn't through hard work and perseverance either. Just pure luck.

It all started with a California poppy plant which came up, along with 25 or 30 others, from last year's flowers. Instead of the usual vibrant orange, these flowers were variegated pink and rose. A gorgeous color. A true aristocrat among poppies.

For six weeks that mutant plant kept on producing new blooms and I kept on waiting for the Ferry-Morse man to stop by and bring me instant fame . . . if not fortune.

"It definitely sounds like something we would be interested in," he said the first time I called. "And already this year we've found a new pleated poppy. It's actually pleated. But I never heard of a pink California poppy . . . variegated you say . . .?"

THE PROBLEM with getting him out to see the plant was the distance. "That's an awful long way to drive," he declared. The company fields are in Mt. View and I live in Campbell.

"You know, we'll be willing to pay you money for that flower if we decide we want it," the young man said during the third or fourth call. Feeling very noble, I declined any financial reward and explained I'd rather help name the new flower.

"How about the Patty Poppy?" I suggested, with botanical immortality in mind. After all, there's a Shirley Poppy. Why not?

Despite several assurances that he definitely would be out (and taking time off work twice to wait for him), he never arrived. I finally gave up and called the owner of a Castro Valley nursery which specializes in California natives.

"That's a mutant alright," he said after hearing a description of the plant. "But it's been my experience that, by the end of the third year, it will probably revert (back to orange)."

A THIRD OPINION was definitely needed but, by now, the blooms were spent and, for the life of me, I couldn't tell which plant was which. Then my family "cleaned up" the front yard and all the poppy plants were gone.

I REALIZE IT isn't gracious to be a complainer but . . .

For six weeks I asked family and friends to come into the house through the garage so as not to disturb the pink poppies by the front walk.

I nearly cancelled my youngest son's party when I learned guests might be coming up the front walk, two abreast.

Our teenagers were not allowed to play their rock music close to the poppy. It was definitely the classical type.

Next year there may be another pink poppy in my front yard.

But in the meantime . . . I just hope their nasty, old pleated poppy . . . is sterile.

San Tomas Aquino

is one confusing street

EDITOR:

We recently moved from Virginia avenue in Campbell to Lamont court, which is also in Campbell. Lamont court is located off of San Tomas Aquino road, which was the subject of the editor's notebook in the September 14 edition of the PRESS.

I thought it would be interesting, to say the least, to actually read the directions to our new home.

Using Campbell High School as a landmark, you would go west on Campbell avenue to San Tomas Aquino road and make a left turn. Continue on San Tomas Aquino road . . . but don't look at the street signs because the street changes to Fenian and you might become confused!

You will pass a park on your left and a block or two after that you will see a street named San Tomas Aquino road on your right. Ignore it and continue on another couple of blocks and you will see San Tomas Aquino road on your left. That's the one you want.

Don't pass it because you will then find yourself on Harriet. Try to forget you are supposedly already on San Tomas Aquino road and turn left on San Tomas Aquino road. Then take the first right which is Ginden drive and the next right which is Lamont court.

Our family and friends who live locally found us but our family from Oregon who visited us recently headed for the nearest phone booth!

That's the truth so help me, God.

PHYLLIS AND EDITH ARE ON THE MEND

Two community leaders recently underwent major surgery but are on the mend this week.

City Clerk Phyllis Acker was discharged from Stanford Hospital last Thursday and expects clearance from her doctor to be back on the job by mid-October.

Edith Morley, a city parks and recreation commissioner, underwent a rare triple bypass operation at Los Gatos Community Hospital last month and has been out of the hospital for two weeks now. She has strict orders to stay quiet for another two months before she can resume her daily walks through Campbell.

Both can receive calls and visitors.

Speak up for Alaska

EDITOR:

One third of our forty ninth state, Alaska, is up for grabs as the House and now the Senate wrestle over preserving the environment (ecosystems) and natural beauty or opening up the state for mineral and natural resource exploration and development.

The lands being negotiated and designated national parks, wilderness, wildlife refuges and wild and scenic rivers are federal lands and are visited and explored each year by thousands of U.S. and foreign tourists.

The Alaskan population doubles and triples each year with backpackers, ferry riders, motorhome owners and even bicyclists — each departing from Alaska bug-eyed and in awe.

Three hundred seventy five million-acre "Alaska," the great land, has been divided up to native and the state — both parties can develop those portions as they choose. But 150 million acres (Alaska Native Claims Settlement Act of 1971) has yet to be placed into the hands of some body who will hopefully notice the delicacy of her wildlife and terrain.

If we focus years into the future, when travel to foreign countries and our U.S. will be commonplace, won't we value the opportunity to see a reasonably untouched land?

Alaska's vast body houses virgin landscapes much like Yellowstone, Colorado's Rockies and Yosemite, but still divinely different. Caribou, Dall Sheep, brown bear, moose, countless bird species, walrus, seal and wolves survive in a natural environment free and wild but delightfully visible to camera-carrying explorers.

A bill now before Congress will decide whether logging, industrial development and mineral extraction will reshape Alaska's surface and change the course of life in our northernmost state.

If preserving legislation comes into effect now, should we need the resources at a latter emergency state, Congress could decide at that point to utilize the materials.

Please speak up by writing Senators Alan Cranston or S.I. Hayakawa c/o U.S. Senate, Washington D.C. 20510 or call the Capitol switchboard 202/22403121.

An Affair to Remember with BEA RENÉ

Now that lunch is being served at GATSBY'S in the El Paseo de Saratoga Shp. Ctr., this restaurant is really busy — not only do I enjoy dining here, but I admire the decor tremendously. It has such a soft, mellow, relaxed feeling & it's a spec. kind of restaurant. Lunch is priced $2.95-$5.95 & incl. BBQ Prime Rib (bones), open-faced Prime Rib Sandwich, N.Y. Steak Sandwiches, BBQ Chicken, Beef, Veal & Lamb Kabobs, or select from the Oyster Bar. Lets all meet at GATSBY'S!

One of the 1st gourmet Chinese restaurants on the peninsula was CHEF CHU'S MANDARIN RESTAURANT . . . the Chu family has been in the restaurant business for many yrs. Lawrence Chu started w/a very small facility at San Antonio & El Camino, enlarging it to now accommodate lg. parties & groups & has now incl. an intimate cocktail lounge. His catering service is well known & he is now booking for Holiday parties for up to 500. He was largely responsible for introducing Northern Chinese cuisine to the Peninsula, & I might add, he was one of the 1st restaurants I had in my column 6 yrs. ago. Here's a tip: every afternoon at 4 p.m., fr. Roast Pork, Honey BBQ Ribs, BBQ Spare Ribs come out of the oven, hot & sizzling . . . the time to arrive at CHEF CHU'S.

spot to celebrate your fiance's birthday or engagement, I suggest the elegant LE PAVILION atop the LE BARON HOTEL . . . where else can you find excellent Continental cuisine, attentive (yet not hovering) service, attractive decor, & a bonus of a scintillating view of the entire Santa Clara Valley? This is what you w/ind at LE PAVILION. LE PAVILION also features a marvelous Buffet lunch & a spectacular Sun. Champagne Brunch w/an unending supply of champagne, no less. Reserve today.

Hot & Sour soup is one of my favorites & owner/Chef Pang On Lui of HWEI FU SHING RESTAURANT prepares it expertly. His restaurant background is formidable and expertise is unending. Try the crisp Egg Rolls & Spicy Hot Shredded Pork — only a couple of the vast selections from his menu — simply delicious. HWEI FU SHING features the round Lazy Susan Tables — great for a lge. group or party — this is the way I enjoy eating Chinese food.

I adore homemade lunches. Especially when they're prepared by volunteer ladies for the benefit of the MING QUONG CHILDREN'S CENTER at VILLAGE HOUSE & GARDEN in Los Gatos. Opened in Nov. of '67, the tea room serves distinctive lunches Mon.-Fri. at 12 noon & 1:15 sittings (reservations preferred) — available for receptions, Bridge luncheons, brunches & private parties by arrangement. Absolutely charming. You'll be served such as Ham & Broccoli Vol au Vent (crepes w/cheese sauce filled w/spinach, mushrooms & other delicacies) or perhaps Beef en Filo (puffed pastries stuffed w/Beef, cheese, mushrooms) delicious Green & Spinach salads, Mocha Fudge Pie, Brownie Torte — just a few of the mouthwatering selections. Do reserve lunch w/these dedicated ladies who operate the Tea Room to assist the financial needs of the MING QUONG CHILDREN'S CENTER. Located at 320 Village Ln., Los Gatos.

Who has the biggest best brunch in town? Well, the 94TH AERO SQUADRON is one of the best if not "the" best . . . their buffet brunch tables completely line the perimeter of a dining room & complementary champagne is incl. Choose from 6 hot entrees, a wide selection of fr. fruits & fr. pastry, & in addition, their chef freshly bakes Date Nut Bread, Sour Cream Cake, Orange Cake & Blueberry Muffins. Only $5.95 ($3.95 child) — served from 10-3 p.m. Call personable Mgr. Darrell McGee for a reservation.

The RECOVERY ROOM (named since it's flourishing next door to Kaiser Hosp.) is featuring a new menu & new Chef Manny Freitas, a native of Santa Clara. Their menu features modestly priced Filet Mignon, N.Y. Steak, Top Sirloin, Prime Rib & seafood up to $6.99. You may order a Spec. hot plate all day, w/soup & salad, mashed potatoes & vegs. & select such as Portuguese Beans & Linguini, Chicken, Hot Beef Sandwich $3.49-$4.99. (Manny also owns "Manny's Fine Foods" in S.J.).

New center opens here

Helping the handicapped

Trying out a new county transit bus with a passenger lift for those in wheelchairs and on crutches was Dean Cormany. The specially outfitted buses are on hand for the open house at the Adult Independence Development Center in Campbell last Friday. The new buses should be in operation on bus routes 18, 64, 66 and 62 by mid-October.

CHATTING in a counseling room during the open house at Bohnett School last week was AIDC Director Tom Church, left, and John Longabaugh, chairman of the board of directors. The center, which recently received a three year government grant, offers special help to handicapped individuals including educational and recreational classes, employment counseling, special events and a drop-in center which is open from 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. weekdays. The center occupies five rooms and the office of the Cambrian district school on S. Bascom ave.

Entertaining visitors at the open house at the new Adult Independence Development Center at Bohnett School last Friday was vocalist, Neal Shepherd on the piano and Steve French on guitar. The center, which offers a variety of programs and classes for handicapped individuals, operates daily at the 2275 S. Bascom ave. school site. Funded through the state department of rehabilitation and United Way, the non-profit facility also receives support from individuals and other county and state agencies.

$6 million

Sanitary district sets 77-78 budget

Fees, state and federal grants and reserve funds make up the bulk of income for the $6 million budget adopted by County Sanitation 4 recently. Proceeds from the tax rate of six cents per $100 assessed valuation for bond interest and repayment will bring in $215,199.

District 4 has seen little impact from Proposition 13 since it had converted from a fee and tax rate basis to a fee only system before passage of the property tax cut initiative.

Included in the $5,990,086 budget for 1978-79 are $2.3 million in reserve funds, about $1.1 million of those funds, which will bring in $140,000 in interest income next year have been earmarked for pipeline facilities to hook up with north county cities. A hearing on the environmental impact statement for that project is scheduled in November. If that project doesn't go forward, according to District 4 Manager Steve Goodman, those funds would be used to offset future operating costs.

Reserves are also on hand for a sledge solids handling facility expected to be under construction in late 1979 or early 1980. Total price tag will be $2.2 million.

Listed in the $6 million budget is $549,230 for salaries and employee benefits, including the five percent pay raise approved earlier this year. Maintenance and operations will cost $1.4 million this year and capital outlay costs are tagged at $1.7 million.

Included in capital outlay plans is $69,660 for sewer construction on Sunnyoaks and More avenue, trunk sewer construction on Dry Creek road, $15,400, and sewer construction on Harriet avenue, $34,000.

Ventilating a manhole at Campbell avenue, at the San Tomas expressway, to eliminate an odor problem is tagged at $12,000. Goodman said Monday there seems to be some lessening of the odor problem in recent weeks so the district will delay the ventilation project for awhile.

"We don't want to spend the money if we don't have to," Goodman explained.

MICHAEL COX PROMOTED

Airman Michael B. Cox, son of Mr. and Mrs. Allen Cox, 1054 Longfellow ave., has been promoted to senior airman in the U.S. Air Force.

The 1973 Camden High School graduate, who attended West Valley College, is an air traffic control radar repairman assigned at Zaragoza Air Base, Spain, with a unit of the Air Force Communications Service.

LOCAL COMPETE AT DIRIDON PICNIC

Twelve localities will take to the softball field at Santa Clara Central Park this Saturday, Sept. 23, at Supervisor Rod Diridon's third annual softball tournament and barbecue.

Members of the "Tax-cutters" team will include Mayor Dean Chamberlin and Councilmen Bill Podgorske, Norm Paul and Rusty Hammer. Also Steve Tedesco, a Campbell high school district trustee.

On the "Efficient Administrators" roster is City Manager Bob Stephens and Police Chief Don Burr.

Local businessmen playing with the "U.S. Tax-payers" include George Kasolas, a city planning commissioner; Jim Norris, Al La Plante, Al Blaine and Mike Guerra.

KARRIE'S IN NORWAY

Airman First Class Ron Karrie, son of Mrs. R. Karrie, 1355 Hacienda ave., has been deployed with members of his unit for temporary duty at Gardemoen Air Base, Norway.

The 1974 Campbell High School graduate is a law enforcement specialist with the 27th Tactical Fighter Wing.

Karrie was among 200 U.S. Air Force personnel deployed from Cannon AFB, New Mexico, to take part in a NATO training exercise with the Royal Norwegian Air Force.

Handicap doesn't stop Campbell college student

Limited vision isn't stopping Campbell resident Kay Bringham from pursuing her goal of becoming a marine biologist.

Bringham, who lives in

Campbell with her husband Jim and their two children, suffers from a singular form of multiple sclerosis that leaves her optic nerve exposed and severely impairs her vision.

But, largely thanks to the West Valley college magnifier, a closed-circuit television unit that magnifies print and pictures, she is able to handle the demanding work load of her classes.

Do you know a Lincoln double?

If you know of someone with a Abe Lincoln-like look the West Valley Republican Women would like to hear from you.

A "Lincoln look-alike contest" is part of the grand opening celebration at their headquarters at 266 E. Campbell ave. this Saturday, September 23 at 12:30 p.m.

The London double-decker bus, owned by Economy Imports will arrive promptly at 12:30 that day with Republican candidates and contest entrants.

The public is invited to meet the candidates and have refreshments at the new center which will be open six days a week through November 7.

For information about the headquarters or the contest contact Mary Ann Williams, headquarters chairman at 248-8997 or, after September 21, at 378-9181.

Top district teachers to be feted Sept. 24

Three local teachers will be among those honored at the ninth annual Teacher Recognition Day Program planned for this Sunday, September 24 at 2 p.m. in the San Jose City College auditorium, 2100 Moorpark ave., San Jose.

Named teacher of the year for their school districts were: Irma DiBenedetto, Campbell Union School District; Darrell Flaming, Moreland School District and Karen Parsagian, Campbell Union High School District.

These three, and other teachers selected by their district teachers and administrators, will be presented with engraved jade-like bookends.

Students and parents of the school districts represented are invited to the program and to an informal reception following where refreshments will be served.

While reservations aren't necessary, advance notice would be appreciated. Call Frank Lowe at 258-3231 or Mabel Farley at 288-9673.

Karen Parsagian, an art teacher at Branham High School, also serves as co-chairman of the art department. According to Superintendent Nick Montesano, in two years she has totally revitalized the art department.

"Mrs. Parsagian is a master teacher in her field," commented Montesano, "and it is not only her friendly, caring personality that has brought the art program to life, but also her skill in teaching."

Darrell Flaming teaches English, French and mathematics at Castro Junior High School in the Moreland School District at both seventh and eighth grade levels.

The honored educator is also an air pilot and has interested many of his students in aviation as an outside activity. Flaming is active in school affairs and has served on several committees. He is the current president of the Moreland Teachers Association.

Irma DiBenedetto taught at Moorpark School in the Campbell elementary district since that school opened in 1948. She retired in June, when that school was closed, after 30 years of uninterrupted service as a first grade teacher.

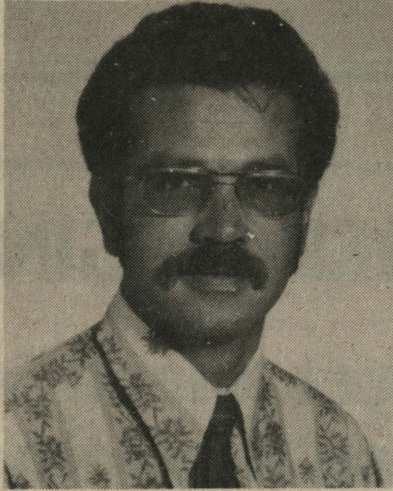

She was honored upon her retirement at a reception attended by scores of co-workers, students, parents and friends.

SELECTED
Teacher of the Year for the Campbell Union High School District was Karen Parsagian, an art teacher at Branham High School.

RETIRED Moorpark first grade teacher Irma DiBenedetto was the choice of Campbell Union School District teachers and administrators for Teacher of the Year.

CASTRO Junior High School teacher Darrell Flaming was picked by Moreland School District teachers and administrators for the Teacher of the Year Award.

ACCEPTING a resolution from Mayor Dean Chamberlin citing him for his more than two decades to service to the city and Campbell Chamber of Commerce is Holly Vollenweider, center, shown with his wife, Mary. The couple were feted at a surprise "roast" attended by more than 120 people, including city officials, at the Quail Hollow Mobile Home Park last Saturday night. The couple is moving later this month to Loveland, Colorado. Vollenweider, a retired realtor who is a former president of the Chamber, will be honored at a special luncheon later this month by the San Jose Real Estate Board.

HELL HATH NO FURY . . .

When Campbell police were called in on a disturbance Sunday afternoon the victim, a Campbell real estate agent, told them his former girlfriend has threatened him several times since they broke up. She even tried to run him down with her car, the man said.

The latest incident occurred in the cocktail lounge of a local restaurant where the man had gone with an associate.

According to reports, the woman came in and an argument ensued over her grabbing his appointment book. As they grappled for the book the man leaned forward and the woman bit a section out of the bridge of his nose.

The victim was later treated for a severe nose injury at Kaiser Hospital.

THANKS FOR THE HELP . . . BUT NO THANKS

A 28 year old Campbell man was apparently beaten and robbed last Saturday morning by three youths who earlier had stopped to help after his car ran out of gas along Campbell avenue at Dillon.

According to reports, the man began walking when the three drove up and offered a lift. They drove him to two gas stations, the victim said, and finally to the home of one of the suspects to get a gas can.

From there they drove him to fill the can with gasoline and even helped push his car to try and get it started. The car wouldn't start.

The victim says the last thing he remembers is walking up to the suspects to thank them for their help. One of them made threatening remarks, he says, and the next thing he knew he regained consciousness laying on the ground bleeding from a head wound, that required 18 stitches to close. His empty wallet was found nearby the next morning.

ARMED ROBBERY

Two suspects reportedly robbed a retail gift shop in the Pruneyard shopping center of $250 in cash after brandishing a handgun last Tuesday night.

According to reports, the manager of Designs In Glass was attempting to lock the door at closing time last Tuesday night when the suspects pushed open the door and walked in demanding the cash.

So as not to arouse suspicion they had the victim place the money in a store shopping bag, ring up "no sale" on the cash register and staple the receipt to the bag.

The two were last seen walking south through the parking lot.

TRAILER THEFT

Baker Trailer Sales, 2105 S. Bascom ave. reported one of their display trailers broken into last week and $940 in valuables missing.

Reported taken was a couch, portable microwave oven, folding table and rocking chair.

Over 300 attend fete for world champs

By CHUCK HILDEBRAND

Character, self-motivation and self-discipline.

Those were the qualities that resulted in a world championship for the Campbell Moreland Pony League All-Stars last month — qualities that were touched upon by a multitude of speakers at a ceremonial banquet held Sunday in the team's honor at the Pinehurst Inn in San Jose.

About 300 people attended the affair, including a number of dignitaries from the sports and political worlds.

Manager Bud Stallings, winner of more than 70 percent of his games during his seven-year tenure in the league, introduced all of his players and related some humorous anecdotes about some of them — for example, the time Scott Freear tried to adopt a raccoon in San Diego and the way Mike Walsh snores himself awake.

Mostly, though, he stuck to the superlatives, which were tossed around in abundance in praise of the newly-crowned champs.

Following are some of the comments Stallings made about various players:

Mike Walsh: "Some people think that you have to be boisterous and loud to be a leader. Mike isn't that type. He's unassuming and quiet but the team respected him a great deal and that's why he was named our team captain. He threw out 12 of the 16 baserunners who tried to steal on him and I know we couldn't have done it without him."

Rich Alvarez: "You hear a lot of talk about the no-hitter he pitched (against Joliet, Ill., in the World Series finals), but it's so refreshing to meet an athlete with humility. I've never met an athlete that is as humble as Rich in considering the degree of success he's had."

Bobby Straight: "Our most versatile player. He pitched, played second, third and short and I think he would have done the job at the other five positions as well if we'd used him."

"Bobby is competitive," Stallings continued. "Maybe too competitive, because he puts a lot of pressure on himself. Once he learns to relax he has a great future."

John Murphy: "Some people get the mistaken impression that John doesn't hustle because he has a manner about him that makes you think he doesn't hustle. But I'll tell you, when the gun goes off he gives you seven tough innings every time."

Eddie Rodriguez: "Eddie was our 'Henry Kissinger' because he was the one who suggested we have a team meeting to settle our differences after we started getting on each other's nerves a little. He was our most consistent hitter."

Paul Sargis: "Paul is the sort of kid who responds to pressure. It took him a little while to gain the self-confidence he needed to take charge in the infield, but he called and executed one pick-off play that got us out of a jam against Puerto Rico in National City."

Bill Roberts: "Billy is unique in that he has the ability to psyche himself totally before a game. He's uncommunicative before a game but that's because he's concentrating so totally. It's a valuable trait and I hope he keeps it."

Stallings had complimentary words for all of the players, and praised the individuals who didn't see much playing time for their attitude and support.

He also complimented coach Chuck Calhoun, who he said made all the offensive moves from his third base coaching post. "Running this team was a two-man operation from the start," he emphasized. "Chuck and I have similar philosophies and we think somewhat alike, and it was a pleasure working with him."

In recognition of his legendary love of calling the suicide squeeze play, the players gave Calhoun a T-shirt with "Squeeze Calhoun" lettered across the front.

"I'd like to thank all of the players and fans for making this the greatest coaching experience of my life," Stallings added.

"Sure we won a world championship but if we didn't grow a little bit and mature a little bit, then what did we really accomplish?" he asked rhetorically. "I think this team took a big step toward adulthood as the result of the experience."

Speakers included league president George Ryan, Rep. Norman Mineta (D-San Jose), State Sen. Jerry Smith (D-Saratoga) and State Assemblyman Richard Hayden (D-San Jose). Smith and Mineta brought resolutions from their legislative bodies and Hayden contributed a state flag that once was flown from the state capitol.

A telegram from Gov. Brown was also read.

National Smoker Study Hails Merit.

'Enriched Flavor' cigarette scores high marks in five key areas.

Can MERIT deliver the flavor of leading high tar brands?

Does MERIT satisfy smokers over a long period—or are MERIT smokers slipping back to old high tar favorites?

Read the bottom-line results of new research conducted with smokers like yourself.

MERIT Breakthrough Confirmed

Confirmed: Majority of high tar smokers rate MERIT taste equal to—or better than—leading high tar cigarettes tested! Cigarettes having up to twice the tar.

Confirmed: Majority of high tar smokers confirm taste satisfaction of low tar MERIT.

And in detailed interviews conducted among current MERIT smokers:

Confirmed: 85% of MERIT smokers say it was an "easy switch" from high tar brands.

Confirmed: Overwhelming majority of MERIT smokers say their former high tar brands weren't missed!

Confirmed: 9 out of 10 MERIT smokers not considering other brands.

First Major Alternative To High Tar Smoking

MERIT has proven conclusively that it not only delivers the flavor of high tar brands—but continues to satisfy.

This ability to satisfy over long periods of time could be the most important evidence to date that MERIT is what it claims to be: The first major alternative to high tar smoking.

A steel-belted radial by any other name...

Send all mail for this column to P.O. Box 311, Palo Alto, Ca. 94302, or call 494-1858 for advice.

I've had bad luck with my steel-belted radial tires — blowouts, tread loss and ballooning of the sidewalls. These aren't Firestone tires — I got them at a Shell station. I've replaced all 5 with Sears tires but have kept the old tires with all their flaws. What are my lines of recourse?

Don Murada, Sunnyvale

Your tires are the Firestone 500 steel-belted radials marketed by Shell as "Super Shell Steel Radials." Montgomery Ward also sold them as "Grappler Radial 800's." These tires are treated by Firestone as if sold through Firestone and the dealers, as per their letter to their dealers dated July 3, 1978. Take your failed tires to a Firestone dealer for compensation and if he won't agree, make it a small claims court issue.

We will arm you (if requested) with a copy of the Firestone letter.

We've been thinking about having our house coated with one of the "Tex" products. It's advertised as being 20 times thicker than paint, having good insulating value, and it carries a 20 year guarantee against cracking, chipping and peeling. What do you know about this material? The bid to do our house comes to $3900.

Neil Comstock,
Palo Alto

The price alone should make you nervous. A proper coat for a 3 bedroom, 2 bath stucco home would be around $1,300. The "Tex" products, produced by two major manufacturers, are applied by innumerable contractors that range in skills from good to bloody awful.

This product is a spray on that must be applied over a perfectly prepared surface that is then coated with a sealer especially formulated for this product. The "Tex" product, when applied, is rough surfaced, somewhat spongy to the touch and will have no capability for shedding dirt. You will notice that the guarantee offers no protection against fading or separation of the material from the application surface. "Bleed through" of dark patches because of an improperly prepared or sealed home prior to application is common and again is not guaranteed.

The written warranty is from the product manufacturer and the many claims against the product are passed off to the contractor who in turn kicks it back to the manufacturer and you, the homeowner, must resort to a lawyer to get your money back.

We consider that a good two coat acrylic paint job affords super protection to the home and won't take a bank loan to apply. We would like to talk to anyone having an unsatisfactory "Tex" job on their home or those considering having this product applied.

I'm housebound and considering starting a mail order business from my home. The company I'm dealing with offers a training course, catalogs, etc. and I am told I can earn $1,800 per month and only work 4 hours per day. What do you think of my chances for earning this much?

Mrs. Deanna Kelly,
Santa Clara

If you figure out a way of selling $10 bills for $5 that only cost you $2, then you have a chance of earning a living through mail order sales. This market is very competitive and even the pros are seeing bankruptcy — don't!

Penny pinchers

By SHIRLEY TALLMAN

Send all mail for this column to P. O. Box 829, Milpitas, Ca. 95035.

In a hurry? On a tight budget or just too tired to fuss? Here are a couple of quick meals custom made for a hot, rushed evening that are also guaranteed not to hurt the pocketbook.

Just about everything stirs up quickly in the skillet and is ready for the table in a jiffy. And so much easier on the budget than those pre-packaged skillet dinners on your grocer's shelves.

The first dish, Skillet Beef with Vegetables, cooks up for about $2.10, or 52¢ per person if you're feeding four. Not the best "penny pincher" perhaps, but a real life saver when it's just one of those days and everyone insists on eating anyway.

The second recipe, Skillet Tuna and Rice, costs about $1.50 to make or 37¢ each if there are four in your family. This dish calls for instant rice which I generally avoid like the plague, but in this case redeems itself by allowing you to mix up this meal in less than 15 minutes.

SKILLET BEEF WITH VEGETABLES

1 cup elbow macaroni
1 large onion, chopped
1 Tbs. cooking oil
1 lb. ground beef
1 can (19 oz.) ready to serve Chunky Vegetable Soup
dash garlic powder
dash paprika
salt and pepper to taste

Cook the macaroni in boiling, salted water according to package directions. Drain.

While macaroni is cooking, saute onion in oil in a large skillet until just tender. Mix in ground beef and separate with a fork and cook until done.

Drain excess fat from pan. Stir in vegetable soup, seasonings, and macaroni. Re-heat. Serves 4.

SKILLET TUNA AND RICE

1 package frozen mixed vegetables
2 Tbs. finely diced onion
2 cups water
¼ tsp. salt

1 can (undiluted) cream of mushroom soup
1½ cups instant rice
1 can (6½ oz.) tuna, drained
dash garlic powder
dash paprika
pepper to taste
1 tsp. lemon juice

Cook the frozen mixed vegetables with the onion, water and salt in a large skillet for about 5 minutes. Stir in the soup and mix until well blended. Add rice, tuna, and seasonings and mix in well. Heat slowly until boiling, stirring constantly.

Cover skillet and reduce heat to simmer for 5 minutes, or until rice is tender. Sprinkle with lemon juice. Serves 4.

making it impossible to use. We don't refrigerate it so that can't be the problem.

I don't like to throw away that much honey. What can we do?

Thank you,
R. Berman,
Los Altos

This is a common problem with honey even if it isn't refrigerated. We keep our honey in small plastic containers that we've filled from large 5-pound cans, and even then it usually crystallizes before we get to the bottom.

To solve the difficulty, simply place the plastic or glass container in a pan of water and increase the heat slowly and carefully until the honey liquifies again. (In the case of glass be very careful the water doesn't get too hot.

ARIES (Mar. 21-Apr. 19): Spotlight on commitment, joint efforts. Relationship undergoes subtle change and priorities shift. You get chance to gather in the sheaves — don't bollix the deal, Air. On last day, spread your little wings and fly. Bon Voyage.

TAURUS (Apr. 20-May 20): Usually caution is devoutly to be wished, Taurus, but not this week. Situation arises which demands bold action. Timing is all. Don't hesitate to go from known to unknown. Week ends with a sigh.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20): Ping-pong week ahead, Gem, and you're the ball. Opposites vie for your attention, time and capital. If you have any bounce left by last day, sneak away and relax with soul mate. Week ends weakly. Sorry Chum.

CANCER (June 21-July 22): As change marches in the door, gloom flies out the window. You get "second chance", and for Pete's sake Moonbaby, don't miff it! Week of activity ends on key of B, for beer, bust and brouhaha.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22): What you think of as strength and aggressiveness, Leo, may come off as weakness and bad manners. If you're really strong, you will be gentle and polite. Growl turns to purr as week ends.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22): Creative juices return. Get close to one who has been remote. Make things happen. "Free offer" can turn out to be mighty expensive, Virgo, so turn thumbs down.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22): Happy Birthday Libra! You are diplomatic, artistic, affectionate, provocative, subtle and sexy. Underneath your gentle surface you have an extremely strong will and woe unto them who push you too far. October, December key months this year. You remove "rose-colored glasses" and march forward with confidence and authority. Others applaud.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21): Nobody has the power to help or hurt you as much as you may think, Scorp. In fact, the cruellest cuts of all are usually self-inflicted. This week be especially kind to someone you love. Yourself.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21): Stop fussing and fuming about "frustration." Accept it as a fact of life, Saj, and when you learn to deal with it you will grow. Week ends on key of F, for frustration. Phooey!

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19): Travel correspondence highlighted. Solution to problem lies right under your nose, Cap — just open your mouth and say (very clearly) "No!" You will understand. Study Scorpio for hint.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18): You can't bargain intelligently, Aquarius, until you understand other person's position. Well, you can at least make a stab at understanding, can't you? Week ends on key of D, for deal.

PISCES (Feb. 19-Mar. 20): G.B. Shaw said it first: "It is impossible for the smoker and the nonsmoker to be equally free in the same railway car." The next time you find yourself bandying the word "freedom" about just remember The Wise Irishman and lower your voice. Better yet, Pisces, shut up completely.

Time to be kind to the one who keeps you warm.

Take good care of your furnace now. And it will take good care of you all winter long. These few kind gestures will help your furnace burn more safely and efficiently.

Check for dust. If you have a wall furnace, see that the area around the air openings and controls is free of lint and dust. If you see accumulations of what looks like soot, call a furnace repair service.

If you have a central furnace, clean or replace the filter now, and at least once more during the heating season. A clogged filter wastes energy and increases heating costs. (For safety's sake, be sure no combustibles are stored near your furnace.)

How to relight the pilot. If your pilot is out, turn the thermostat to the lowest possible setting before relighting. Make sure the main burner valve and the pilot valve are turned off and allow a few minutes for the gas to clear.

Then check the manufacturer's lightup instructions which appear on most furnaces. Once the pilot is relighted, reset the thermostat to 65° or lower. If you're uneasy about it, call us.

Call us if you smell gas. If your furnace needs parts or repairs, call a qualified furnace repair service. If you smell gas, call us.

Ask for our booklets "At Your Service" and "Gas and Electric Safety in Your Home," free at any of our offices.

Spend a few kind moments with your furnace, and it will take good care of you all winter long.

PG and E
No one can afford to waste energy.

 An Equal Opportunity Housing Development of Retirement Inns of America.

Growing old gracefully isn't always something you can do alone.

Sometimes you need help. In the form of companionship. Or a little relief from the daily tasks of cooking, cleaning and laundering. Sometimes you have to treat yourself to some luxuries so you know you still love yourself. Or you need the excitement of a night out. And sometimes, it's a strong feeling of security you need to curl around.

At Retirement Inn of San Jose, we believe getting older doesn't have to mean getting old. Which is why we're dedicated to maintaining the just-right balance of personal attention... and the freedom we all need to feel fully alive.

We don't talk much about our excellent food and luxurious rooms, or our exciting group-outings. We talk about the free spirit you'll find here. That's what make growing old gracefully, so graceful.

Drop by for a tour anytime, or join us at our Buffet, Sundays one to three. We'd love to have you spend your Free Years with us. We're at 1185 Pedro Street, two blocks off the Meridian Off-ramp, 280. Or give us a call at 275-9040.

Quick scores lead Buccaneers past WG

FOR QUITE A while last Friday afternoon, the Willow Glen high school cheerleaders and song girls were getting in more activity than the offensive unit of the school's football team in a non-league game at Campbell high school.

The Rams offense had to stand impatiently on the sidelines and watch the Campbell offensive unit go to work against the Willow Glen defense in the first period of play in the first game of the season for each school.

The Rams had to stand by and watch the Bucs march to a touchdown on their first possession of the game. And then, when it looked like it was finally Willow Glen's turn to move, the Rams fumbled the Buc kick-off and Campbell was moving again.

Campbell drove for a second touchdown in the first period while the Ram offense watched helplessly. And so, before the Rams ever completed a successful center snap, Campbell owned a 14-0 lead.

Campbell went on to post a 21-0 victory in the non-league game on the Buc field to give first year head coach Wayne Brooks a victory in his first trip to the sidelines as a Buc head varsity coach.

CAMPBELL rolled up 328 total yards in the victory while holding the Rams to just 39 to start the year off right.

Jackie Murdick capped Campbell's game opening 73 yard, eight play drive with a nine yard touchdown run early in the game. Dave Sasscer popped the first of his three extra point kicks to give the Bucs a 7-0 lead.

Willow Glen fumbled the ensuing kick-off and Campbell recovered on the Ram 44. Six plays later Bob Griesinger romped in from 15 yards out and Sasscer's kick made it 14-0 Campbell before Willow Glen had run even a single offensive play.

Campbell added one more touchdown in the victory, Griesinger hitting Dave Erkman on a 56 yard scoring aerial in the third period.

Griesinger, playing his first game in Buccaneer red and blue, turned in a strong performance at quarterback for Campbell, completing eight of 17 passes for 171 yards and the one TD. He was, though, intercepted four times.

"Griesinger was superb throwing the football," said Brooks after the game. "The quarterback position looks solid for us at this time."

ERKMAN CAUGHT two passes for 71 yards and tight end Andy Boe grabbed two for 44 yards for the winners. Ken Schmidt snagged two passes for 25 yards and Mike Silvas pulled in one for 38 yards.

Murdick led the Campbell ground show with 57 yards on nine carries. Erkman added 37 yards on five tries and fullback Dan Romeo picked up 23 yards on eight totes. Reserve back Wade Allison gained 18 yards on two carries.

"Murdick played a real fine second half," said Brooks in praise of his running back. "And Erkman was a real bright spot for us."

In the offensive line Brooks was pleased with the performances of center Greg Campodonico, tackle Steve Aimonetti and tight end Boe.

"Boe was blocking well, ran good pass routes and caught a couple of passes for us," said Brooks.

Defensively, the Buccaneers completely shut off the Rams. Willow Glen could manage just 33 yards on the ground and only six in the air against the rugged Buc defense.

DEFENSIVE END Manny Rodriguez, picked as the outstanding player of the game by the Buc coaching staff, led the club in tackles with 10 and sacked the Ram quarterback twice. He also recovered a fumble.

"We were real pleased with his effort defensively," said the coach.

Middle guard Campodonico was also in on 10 tackles and a sack and linebacker Neil McGuire was in on seven stops.

Jeff Melrose, who "did a fine job at free safety" according to Brooks, picked off a pass for the Bucs and Erkman and Juan Rodriguez each recovered fumbles.

"But our strength defensively, was up front," admitted Brooks. "Coach (Al) Matthews did a superb job of defending Willow Glen."

The Bucs will try to make it two straight this Friday when they visit Leigh for a 3:30 p.m. game to open the West Valley Athletic League season.

"We expect Leigh to be a rugged football team," said Brooks. "Leigh lost to Awalt last week, but that's no indication of how Leigh can play."

Brooks added, "We just hope to keep it going."

ON TARGET — Blackford quarterback Mike DeLaPena was on target again last Friday, completing 14 of 30 passes for 170 yards and two touchdowns in the Braves' 38-14 loss to the Mt. Pleasant Cardinals.

Maloney runs wild but Panthers still beaten

THE GATES opened for the 1978 football season at Prospect high school last Friday and Dave Maloney is off and running!

Maloney ran wild for the Panthers when they opened the season against Peterson last Friday night. But, unfortunately for Prospect, the Pirates were off and running too — running to a 53-14 victory.

"Peterson really handled us," admitted Panther boss Earl Adams after the loss. "They did a good job."

The Panthers will be looking to get into the win column this Saturday night when they battle Lynbrook in an 8 p.m. game at the Cupertino high school field.

Maloney was the star of the night last Friday for Prospect, accounting for more than 300 yards in kick returns, pass receiving and rushing.

MALONEY scored both of Prospect's touchdowns in the loss, tallying in the second period on a 60 yard screen pass from Jim Douglas and scoring in the fourth on an 89 yard kick-off return. Terry Kempe kicked both extra points.

Maloney rambled for 122 yards on 14 carries in the game and pulled down three Douglas passes for 98 yards. Randy Chase added 75 yards on 13 carries in the rushing department for Prospect.

Douglas finished the night six for 12 for 148 yards and one touchdown through the skies for the Panthers.

Adams singled out center Ken Galloway and tight end Mark Erickson for their play in the offensive line and praised linebacker Jim Macon for his work defensively. Macon led all Panther tacklers in the game with eight.

Two blocked punts inside the Panther 25 and one lost fumble on the Panther seven helped the Peterson cause in the game.

WV grabs 2nd place

WEST Valley United of Campbell finished second in the recent second annual Shamrock Invitational soccer tournament in Dublin, California, losing to the San Jose Rovers 5-1 in the finals.

West Valley earned a birth in the finals by accumulating 29 points in its first five games, second to the Rovers' total of 33 points. Host Dublin also had 29 points but West Valley was given the nod for already having defeated Dublin.

Blackford has its moment in loss

BLACKFORD didn't pick up a victory when it went up against Mt. Pleasant last Friday afternoon in a non-league football game. But those Braves had their moments of brilliance!

Blackford dropped a rather lopsided 38-14 decision to the strong Cardinals last Friday on the MP field but the Braves proved they could move the football.

The Braves fell behind 19-0 in the first half before putting together an impressive drive to end the second period. Blackford drove from its own 20 to the Mt. Pleasant 27 before a pass interception with the final seconds of the half ended the threat.

But the Braves came out driving again in the third quarter. And they marched ominously 84 yards on 15 plays to break the scoring ice for the season. The Braves, who were shut-out by Monta Vista a week earlier, ate up 7:43 on the clock on the drive.

Mt. Pleasant put three touchdowns on the scoreboard before the Braves could score again, but Blackford proved that it could move the ball against a good football team.

MIKE DELAPENA completed 14 of 30 passes for 170 yards in the game for Blackford and threw well against the Cards.

James Lee grabbed five passes for 54 yards and Joe Loftis caught four passes for 64 yards and two touchdowns to lead Brave receivers. Jim Rhodes pulled in three passes for 32 yards and Mike Bambino and Mitch Troupe caught one pass each.

Larry Young was the workhorse in the Blackford backfield, carrying 10 times for 38 yards. Mark Hendrickson carried three times for 14 yards and Clay Ritchie carried three times for 13 yards.

Dan Publicover and Mike Rodda were the leading tacklers in the game for Blackford along with Rhodes and Curtis Valine. Joe Finley and Reggie Boltz were also top tacklers and Boltz picked off a pass. Troupe, Bambino, Lee and Dean Lingbeck were also in on key stops.

Blackford snapped a string of six scoreless periods of football with its third quarter touchdown. DeLaPena got the Braves on the board with a fourth down pass to Loftis for six yards and six points. Ken Smith kicked the extra point.

A 46 yard toss from DeLaPena to Loftis in the fourth period accounted for Blackford's second touchdown. Smith kicked another extra point.

Blackford will take its 0-2 pre-season record into league play Friday when the Braves open the West Valley Athletic League season at Camden in a 3:30 p.m. game.

Execution missing in Del Mar defeat

WHEN A TEAM gets shut-out, its coach usually puts the blame on lack of fundamentals. And that was the case last Friday when Del Mar head coach Ron Leimbach watched his Del Mar Dons get white-washed 12-0 by the Lincoln Lions.

"We have to execute," said Leimbach. "That's the whole key. We missed some assignments and that really hurt us."

The Dons won't be able to afford missed assignments this week if they have any hopes of upsetting highly regarded Los Gatos.

Del Mar opens its 1978 West Valley Athletic League season Friday afternoon at home against the powerful Wildcats, picked by most experts to repeat as league champions.

The Wildcats looked brilliant last week when they opened their season with a 27-14 victory over arch rival Saratoga.

"I think they have the best running back in the league," Leimbach said of the Wildcats' Jeff Petulla.

Against Saratoga, Petulla carried the ball 24 times for 124 yards and three touchdowns.

WHILE PETULLA was running for 124 yards on his own last Friday, the Dons were managing just 98 yard of total offense against the Lions.

Del Mar registered 80 yards through the air but only 18 on the ground.

Quarterback Bruce Prothro provided most of the offense by completing four of 14 passes for 80 yards. Eric Wilson was the Dons' leading ground gainer with seven yards on two carries.

Although the offense was anemic, the Del Mar defense turned in a fine effort.

"Basically, we shut their running game off," said Leimbach. "Overall, I thought we did a good job on defense."

Leimbach singled out nose guard Kurt Guadros, tackle Chuck Wiefles and cornerback Chris Duncan for their efforts on defense. Duncan came up with an interception to stop one Lincoln drive in the first half.

Del Mar's defense held Lincoln scoreless until the middle of the third quarter when Tim Hobbs capped a 60 yard drive with a 10 yard touchdown pass to James Dalanco.

Hobbs later fired a seven yard TD to Greg Villareal to end a $0 yard march.

Hobbs was nine for 18 on the day for 157 yards. Villareal caught five of his passes for 97 yards.

Predictors off to great start

THE PREP football predictors at this newspaper got off to a great start last week in the West Valley Athletic League, picking seven of the nine winners in non-league football action.

But things look a bit tougher heading into this week as the teams of the WVAL get ready for league play.

In games on Friday, Los Gatos visits Del Mar, Branham travels to Westmont, Blackford heads to Camden and Campbell treks to Leigh, all for 3:30 p.m. bouts.

The Cats will take the Dons by 18, the Bruins will nip the Warriors by two, the Braves will stop the Cougars by three and the Bucs will take the Longhorns by eight.

Saturday night Prospect will lock horns with Lynbrook at 8 p.m. in a non-league game at Cupertino high. The Vikings should pull out a six point win.

Volleyball classes

A PAIR of volleyball classes are currently being offered by the City of Campbell - Community Services Department.

A co-ed drop-in volleyball program will begin Monday, Sept. 25, at Campbell high school. The Monday night program will feature three courts, designed for recreational play, intermediate competition and competitive play.

A beginning volleyball class will start on Tuesday, Oct. 3, from 7 p.m. to 10 p.m. The class will span eight lessons and costs $15.

Registration is currently being taken at the City of Campbell-Community Services Department, 75 N. Central avenue. For further information call 378-8141, ext. 252.

Warriors work out in San Jose

DIONNE WARWICK TURNED the song "Do You Know the Way to San Jose" into a big hit back in the 1960's and gave this city a little national attention.

Well, the Golden State Warriors certainly "know the way to San Jose." And they'll sure be the center of attention when they "hit" the hardwood at San Jose City College this week looking to make it big in their 17th season in the Bay Area.

The Warriors are currently going through two-a-day workouts at the SJCC gym at 10 a.m. and 6 p.m. in preparation for the 1978-79 season. The evening workout is open to the public.

There are 18 Warriors in camp battling for the 11 spots up from for grabs on the club's current roster. There are 12 veterans and six rookies looking for berths on the team, but of the 12 vets, only five have more than two seasons of NBA experience.

One of the leading rookies on the Warrior roster is sure no stranger to the San Jose area. Guard Ray Townsend is a product of the San Jose area where he was a high school star for Camden in the early 70's. Townsend went on to star at UCLA before he was drafted by the Warriors.

Drop-in hoop loop

A PAIR of drop-in basketball programs will be held at Campbell and Prospect high schools starting next week.

Campbell high's drop-in program will start Tuesday, Sept. 26, while the Prospect program will begin Thursday, Sept. 28.

Gyms will be open from 7 p.m. to 10 p.m. The cost will be $5 for the six week program.

Registration is currently being taken on a first come, first served basis at the City of Campbell-Community Services Office, 75 N. Central avenue in Campbell.

For further information call Mark McCarroll at 378-8141, ext. 252.

Collectors convention

BASEBALL card and sports memorabilia collectors will meet at Acalanes high school in Lafayette Saturday, Nov. 4, for NorCal VII, the northern California Collectors' Show & Swap.

The convention will run from 9:30 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Collectors interested in reserving tables, should send a check of $5 for adults and $3 for students under 18 to Dick Dobbins, Box 193, Alamo, Ca. (94507). Make checks payable to Acalanes high school.

For further information call either Dobbins at (415) 935-7130, John Spalding (408) 264-5530 or Jim Horne (916) 877-5801.

Tiger streaks intact

THE SAN Jose Tigers and quarterback Craig Kimball kept their respective streaks intact recently during a 41-17 pasting of the Sacramento Buffalos.

For the Tigers, it was their 26th consecutive California Football League triumph over the last two years.

For Kimball, it marked the 27th consecutive game that he has fired at least one touchdown in. The ex-San Jose State University great tossed two TD passes in the win.

Knights control ball, Warriors in victory

IT'S HARD TO score when the other team has the ball. That's a problem that confronted the Westmont Warriors last Friday in their 1978 season opener against the Los Altos Knights.

The Knights controlled the ball for most of the afternoon, running 69 plays to Westmont's 45, on the way to a 24-10 non-league triumph.

"We didn't play all that well," said a disappointed Don Stagnaro, the Warriors' head coach. "Defensively, we didn't play well at all. Offensively, we didn't look that bad, considering we didn't have the ball all that much."

The Knights jumped out to a 10-0 lead midway through the second period before Westmont was able to get on the scoreboard on a 22 yard touchdown pass from Mike Grado to Tim Mooney. Paul Hamill's extra point kick cut Los Altos' lead to three points.

The Warriors fell behind by seven points heading into the final quarter after being outscored 7-3 in the third stanza. Westmont's points came on a 29 yard field goal by Hamill.

LOS ALTOS put the game out of reach early in the fourth quarter on a four yard touchdown run by Mark Rychlik.

Rychlik, who scored two of the Knights' touchdowns on the day, carried the ball 15 times for 88 yards. Los Altos outrushed the Warriors 190-59.

Most of Westmont's offense on the day came through the air. Grado, making his first varsity start at quarterback, completed 13 of 26 passes for 138 yards. His favorite receiver was Bill Ebert, who caught four passes for 41 yards.

Speedy cycles set for running of SJ Mile 14th

IF JOE LEONARD of San Jose had topped out at 130 miles per hour on the back stretch of the San Jose Mile way back in 1957, he'd have been hanging on for dear life as he made the final turn before heading for home!

Bikes just didn't go that fast way back in '57 when Leonard was rolling to the feature win in the first ever San Jose 25-Mile National Championship race at the Santa Clara County Fairgrounds — but they do now!

Two-wheel pilots will be hitting speeds of 130 mph on the straightaways 21 years and 13 races after Leonard became the first winner ever on the now very famous San Jose Mile.

Steve Eklund of San Jose and Jay Springsteen are the favorites in the 14th running of the San Jose Mile set for Sunday, Sept. 24, at the Fairgrounds oval.

The two rank at the top of the point standings in the Camel Pro Series. Springsteen holds just a slim three point edge over Eklund coming into San Jose at Perry Lunt accounted for most of Westmont's yardage on the ground, toting the ball nine times for 34 yards.

Stagnaro singled out linebacker Bill Stouffer and Mooney, Westmont's strong safety, for their play on defense.

The Warriors open their West Valley Athletic League season Friday afternoon at home (3:30 p.m.) against the Branham Bruins.

"They have excellent speed," Stagnaro said of the Bruins. "We're going to have to try and stop their speed and improve on our fundamentals a little more."

WOMEN'S soccer league games

A FULL SLATE of games is on tap for Sunday in the Bay Area Women's Soccer League.

In first and second division action, the Cupertino Club will meet the Short Circuits at 9:30 a.m. and the Super Mothers will take on the Pork Chops at 11:30 a.m. at Jollyman Park and the Stingers Gold will meet the Lady Lobos at 9:30 a.m., the Stingers Swarm will face Sheer Energy at 11:30 a.m. and the Strikers will take on Lady Lobos II at 1:30 p.m. at San Jose City College.

LEONARD BAT-
CHELORELIZABETH
BRANNAN

Two are named CUSD posts

One familiar face and one new one have joined the ranks of management personnel for the Campbell elementary school district. Of the two recent appointments one has been an employee for 26 years and the other comes to Campbell from the Menlo Park school district.

Elizabeth (Betty) Brannan was selected from the 27 applicants and nine finalists for the job of comptroller. Her appointment, by Superintendent Walt Hauss, became effective September 1.

The new comptroller joined the district as an order clerk in 1952 and later was promoted to department secretary (1956), business assistant (1959) and assistant business manager (1965 to present). She will be overseeing the operations of the business office.

Named director of building and transportation services was Leonard Batchelor who started his duties here last week.

Batchelor, also appointed by Hauss, was picked from 21 applicants and eight finalists for the post.

His former positions included code and cipher clerk and office manager for a New York firm (1948-61), inventory control and bookkeeper/accountant for Pharmacy Southampton, Agwan Aircraft Products, New York (1961-64), clerk of works, superintendent of buildings and grounds coordinator of instructional communications for Southampton College, New York (1964-74) and property manager, physical facilities management and support services for the Menlo Park City School District (1974 to present).

St. Lucy's sets nine week class

Parishioners and non-parishioners alike are invited to the nine-week Christian education program which gets underway at St. Lucy's Church tonight, September 21 at 7:30 p.m.

"Why All These Changes in My Church?" is the topic of the first two-hour session with speaker the Rev. Joseph F. Egan.

No advanced registration is required and visitors are welcome to attend the Thursday sessions which run through November 16 at the 2350 S. Winchester boulevard church.

Future sessions will focus on such topics as challenges to church doctrine, the Prophets and a summary of the scriptures.

Also instructing the course will be the Rev. Jack A. Bonsor.

Calendar

CONCERT PIANIST AT WESTHOPE

John Kraus, noted Bay Area concert pianist, will perform at Westhope Presbyterian Church this Sunday, September 24 at 7:30 p.m. The concert is free.

The church is located at 12850 Saratoga ave., Saratoga.

MULBERRY PRE-SCHOOL OPEN HOUSE

Parents of pre-school age youngsters and their children are invited to attend the open house at Mulberry Pre-School this Monday, September 25 from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m. The school is located at the First Congregational Church, corner of Hamilton and Leigh avenues.

For more information about the school call 377-1595 or 275-0384.

Club Notes

COUNTRY WOMAN'S CLUB

Tom King, historic analyst for the City of Campbell, will be the guest speaker at the Monday, September 25 meeting of the Country Woman's Club of Campbell.

The group holds its first fall meeting beginning at noon at the Fung Lum restaurant on Bascom ave.

King will present a slide show of Campbell's history and of older homes in the city.

Program chairman is Ronnie Winkler.

NEWCOMERS CLUB

Newcomers who would like to make new friends and get acquainted are invited to join the Newcomers Club of San Jose. Meetings, classes and family activities are planned by the group. Special programs include gourmet cooking, bridge, mah jongg, arts and crafts and tennis. For more information call 265-7680 or 297-9469.

RETIRED PERSONS ASSOCIATION

Attorney Robert Hales will discuss "Wills and Inheritance" at the Tuesday, September 26 meeting of the American Association of Retired Persons.

The group meets at 10:30 a.m. at the Saratoga Community Center, 19655 Allendale ave.

For information about the group call 867-2233.

DIABETES SOCIETY

"Feet and Diabetes" is the topic of a free lecture offered by the Diabetes Society tonight, September 21, at 8 p.m. in the second floor conference room of Valley Medical Center, 751 S. Bascom ave.

Podiatrist Gordon W. Jower is guest speaker. For information about the society call 287-3785.

WEST VALLEY WELCOME WAGON

Consuela Charles will speak on county emergency resources at the Tuesday, September 26 meeting of the Better Breathers Club.

The group meets at 1 p.m. at Leininger Center, 1300 Senter road, San Jose.

Sponsored by the American Lung Association, the club helps people with emphysema and other respiratory problems.

For more information call 998-5864.

RAILWAY HISTORICAL SOCIETY

A bus tour to Napa county to ride two narrow gauge steam railroads is planned for Sunday, September 24 by the Central Coast Section of the National Railway Historical Society. In addition to the train rides the group will also visit two wineries.

For information about the group or the trip call Don Tustin at 295-5765 or write box 8407, San Jose, 95155.
